Employer Engagement Ofsted Framework Internationalism

"As a new Academy, attending the conference with our Enterprise Learning Champion allowed some time to pause, reflect, chat and be inspired by the range of opportunities that we can build on. However the real benefit has been to allow us clearly align strategic development and demands with the operational priorities."

Andrew O'Brien
Vice Principal
Accrington Academy

"I came away from the two days inspired to share best practice and apply the contributions of the high quality participants"

Ian Smith
Vice Principal

Outstanding Judgement:

The pupil's application of their basic skills across many areas of school life is innovative and highly effective. They have a wide range of well-honed skills that are highly relevant to their next phase of their life in education, training, employment or other constructive activity. They are aspirational, know precisely what they need to do and are determined to succeed.
